

With so many great places to go and things to do along the entire length of our scenic sixes route out of Derby, you're really spoilt for choice.

Characterful market towns, grand houses, the birthplace of the industrial revolution, even a cable car ride and heritage railway journeys.

What are you waiting for?

Heights of Abraham

What a way to go up in the world! - observation cable cars take you high above the gorge with stunning views of the Derwent Valley and Peak District as you rise. Up on top a guide can take you on a fascinating journey through the spectacular cavern system deep underground into the hillsides.

Hear about the cavern's 350 million year history, climb the Prospect Tower, follow wooded trails and enjoy breathtaking panoramas.

until 4 Nov daily 10am-4.30pm
heightsofabraham.com 01629 582365

Gulliver's Kingdom

If you've got the little ones with you, aged 2-13, they'll love this theme Park with exciting rides and attractions, including a pirates' play area, log flume and drop tower. There are fabulous views and, overlooking the valley some 300 feet below, not another log flume in Europe with views like this!

10.30am-5pm
weekends until 28 Oct
Thurs-Sun in July, daily Aug & school holidays

Masson Mills

This 1783 mill is the finest surviving example of an Arkwright cotton mill. It's now a working textile museum illustrating Arkwright's legacy, and includes a superb shopping village with four floors of designer clothes, gifts, food, plus a riverside restaurant.

Mon-Sat 10am-5.30pm
Sun 11am-5pm

Haddon Hall

Between Rowsley and Bakewell you'll find this imposing house on a hillside overlooking the River Wye. It's steeped in history and romantic tales, and surrounded by beautiful Elizabethan terraced gardens.

Chatsworth's landscaped gardens are a joy - get lost in the maze and look out for impressive sculptures, the long water cascade and the spectacular Emperor Fountain. And there's a farmyard to delight the little ones.

Bakewell

Cobbled alleyways lead to hidden courtyards with old stone buildings. With riverside walks, high quality shops and range of cafés, Bakewell makes for a great day out. And don't forget to try a genuine Bakewell Pudding - scrumptious!

Market day is Monday, as it has been for the last 700 years. Farmers markets are held in the Agricultural Business Centre on the last Saturday each month.

The Annual Bakewell Show is on the first Wednesday and Thursday in August, and there's the Bakewell Carnival on the first Saturday in July and an arts festival in August.

Cromford Mill

Richard Arkwright's first mill complex was really the birthplace of the modern factory system, and what happened here in the 1770s changed the world we live in. Cromford Mill is now a UNESCO World Heritage Site with visitor attractions, shops, cafés, exhibitions, guided tours and galleries.

In the stunning Arkwright Experience, using CGI technology, you can hear the great man tell of his inventions and his life.

until 5 Nov daily 9am-5pm

Ecclesbourne Valley Railway

This scenic line between Wirksworth and Duffield uses heritage diesel railcars, with some steam trains on the bit between Wirksworth and Ravenstor.

You could jump off at Ravenstor and take the pleasant uphill ramble along part of the High Peak Trail.

check website for timetable
e-v-r.com 01629 823076

Wirksworth

Wander round this pretty market town and see the grand St Mary's church. Look out for the Saxon coffin lid, Norman font and carvings.

Discover the narrow, winding back streets leading off Market Place. There are galleries, craft shops, tearooms and some excellent pubs in the town.

The traditional well dressing takes place on 26-28 May, and on 23-24 June you can follow a trail around 20 gardens in the town with home made teas en-route, and some with live music, too. There's also the annual Wirksworth Festival on 7-23 September - see panel on the right.

Midland Railway Butterley

Heritage train rides transport you to a bygone era. Explore two railway museums, the signal box, a Victorian railwayman's church and more. There are narrow gauge, miniature and model railways, shops, cafés and a children's playground, and a country park with walks to enjoy, plus special events throughout the year.

Peak Rail Matlock

Steam trains run throughout the year between Matlock and Rowsley South on this 4 miles section of the old Midland Railway main line that once connected London with Manchester. Look out for specially themed events on selected dates.

until 4 Nov daily 11am-5pm (from 10.30am 27 May-3 Sep)
peakrail.co.uk 01629 580381

Matlock & Matlock Bath

Discover friendly independent shops as well as more familiar names here on the edge of the Peak District. This is actually the county town of Derbyshire, and there's a traditional market on Tuesdays and Fridays in the Market Hall and a craft and flea market on Saturdays.

Hall Leys Park has a boating lake, mini-golf, play area and miniature railway. On the third Saturday of every month you can buy from producers some of the finest, freshest, tastiest local produce at the farmers' market held there.

A mile or so south of Matlock is Matlock Bath - it has quite a continental vibe and visitors have flocked here since the late 17th century, including Queen Victoria, twice!

There are interesting shops to nose around, cafés and restaurants to keep you refreshed, and the riverside setting in a steep gorge is quite spectacular.

Ashbourne

Among the narrow streets in this lovely market town - markets are held on Thursdays and Saturdays - is Church Street with fine Georgian houses, almshouses and St Oswalds Church, one of the glories of Derbyshire.

Look for the inn signs of the Green Man and Black's Head overhanging the street, a famous Georgian coaching inn once frequented by Dr Johnson and Boswell. The town has a fairly wide range of shops and, of course, numerous pubs.

The Ashbourne Show is on 18 August 2018, a great day out, and remember the absolutely mad but such fun Shrovetide Football to be held on 5/6 March 2019 - it has to be seen to be believed!

Chesterfield

Find out how the famous crooked spire got its twist, then wander through narrow medieval streets such as The Shambles for unique independent shops, or visit Vicar Lane and The Pavements for your favourite high street names.

Or bargain hunt in Chesterfield Market, one of the largest open air markets in England, every Monday, Friday or Saturday.

There's a flea market on the last Sunday of the month and a farmers' market the second Thursday of every month.

Mansfield

Enjoy the vibrant mix of big brand and independent shopping choices in the Four Seasons Shopping Centre, St Peters Retail Park, the Rosemary Centre, and in streets surrounding the Market Square. There's a market there six days a week.

On the weekend of 1/2 September Mansfield Garden & Craft Festival 2018 takes place inside two large marquees in the Market Place, and every day from 30 July to 25 August the Market Place becomes a beach for Life's a Beach!

Newstead Abbey

Originally an Augustinian abbey, this was the poet Lord Byron's home from 1808 to 1814. There are Victorian room settings to see as well as his private apartments.

Follow meandering paths past lakes and waterfalls, rockeries and formal gardens in the extensive grounds. There's a monument to Byron's favourite dog, Boatswain, on what Byron believed was the site of the altar of the priory church.

The Abbey hosts a variety of special events and temporary exhibitions throughout the year.

Wollaton Hall

This spectacular Elizabethan mansion with its own deer park is on the outskirts of Nottingham. As well as the historic hall - Wayne Manor in the Batman film The Dark Knight Rises - you'll find Nottingham's Natural History Museum and Industrial Museum (open last Sunday of each month for Sunday steamings).

There are year-round special events and concerts in the park, too.

National Brewery Centre at Burton on Trent

Celebrates the history of brewing and learn about the real life stories of the people who helped to build Burton's world-renowned brewing reputation, and the role played by the legendary Burton-based Bass family.

Expert guides take you through the brewing process and show you steam engines and vintage vehicles that helped the development of the industry.

The William Worthington microbrewery brings the tour up to the present day - with the chance to sample some great local ales brewed on site!

Tutbury Castle

Overlooking the winding River Dove with spectacular views, this castle dates back to Norman times. It played an important part in English history, in war and as one of the prisons of Mary Queen of Scots. The Civil War of the 17th century left the dramatic ruins we see today.

See the authentic Tudor garden and medieval herbery, the haunted Great Hall and King's Bedroom, and be enthralled by historic re-enactments on special days.

DHLawrence at Eastwood

Walk in the footsteps of the writer D H Lawrence in Eastwood by downloading the Blue Line Trail or buying one at the museum. See what inspired novels such as Women in Love and Lady Chatterley's Lover.

Walking around the town you'll find the D H Lawrence Birthplace Museum, the Mechanics Institute where Lawrence would borrow books together with the Congregational Chapel and British School where he taught.

Derby

It's been called the craft-beer capital of the world, as this historic market city has multiple award-winning pubs that serve up locally produced beer and scrumptious grub. The Exeter Arms, The Silk Mill, The Tap and The Brunswick (complete with its own brewery) are just some of many cosy places to refuel.

Derby boomed as a city during the industrial revolution and has lots of treasures on display at the city's Museum and Art Gallery. The famous painter Joseph Wright was born in Derby and the Art Gallery has the largest collection of his paintings anywhere.

If shopping is your thing then take a stroll down Sadler Gate and Iron Gate to find some charming independent and fashion shops, while Intu Derby has all your High Street glamour under one roof.

Nottingham

Famous for the legendary outlaw Robin Hood, Nottingham has an infectious energy. Hockley has emerged as the cultural centre of the city. Based around former Victorian lace factories, the district has come of age and is the place to find quirky shops, beautiful boutiques, and funky street art.

Look out for cool shops in the colourful courtyard of Cobden Chambers, affordable vintage clothes at Cow and soughround bread treats at the Ugly Bread Bakery. If you're a bit of a coffee snob, then 200 Degrees, Outpost and Cartwheel all serve a fine cup of beans.

The Theatre Royal and Royal Concert Hall have opera, classical music, West End shows and great drama to keep you entertained. If you're looking for something a bit more edgy, then Nottingham is the place to be. Rock City, Rescue Rooms, Bodega and The Maze have touring singers and bands as well as showcasing local talent.

If you're looking for an alternative evening out, the kind of night where you order your drinks on an etch-a-sketch and get them served in lampshades, here are our top picks...

Hot Shots

Hockley Arts Club
Hidden away in the busy backstreets of Hockley, this bar has three themed floors and serves everything from cocktails to locally brewed beer. Expect funky furniture, neon signs, leather armchairs and lampshades... lots of lampshades.

thehockleyartsclub.com

The Pelican Club
This perfect first date venue has a delicious Italian menu, exotic cocktails and live jazz every Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. With a cosy, relaxed atmosphere, it's perfect for an evening with a significant other or, a group of your mates.

One for the road...

The East Midlands is world renowned for its local breweries. Derbyshire alone has more breweries per capita than any other place in the UK. Most of these also own their own pubs, which means you can sample locally produced tipples in a number of quirky, cosy and friendly locations that are just a bus ride away...

Dancing Duck Brewery

This Derby-based brewery offers some great ales to add to your must-try list. The Ay Up (or Ey Up depending on where you're drinking) is a pale, hoppy ale that goes perfectly with some of their award-winning cutting-edge pub grub.

The Exeter Arms Derby
 The Silk Mill Derby
 The Crossing Burton
 The Rectory Chesterfield

Amber Ales

With a reputation for their modern take on traditional ales, all their tipples are hand-made using high quality floor-malted barley and whole hops. Try the award-winning Delicious Chocolate Orange Stout for something a bit different.

Castle Rock

Nottingham's largest independent brewery was established in the 1970s by then CAMRA chairman Chris Holmes - there are now 22 unique pubs in Nottinghamshire and beyond. They have stayed true to their roots and all their venues are run by dedicated and friendly teams.

Vat and Fiddle Brewery Tap Nottingham
 The Horse & Plough Bingham
 The Embankment Trent Bridge
 The Cricketers Rest Kimberley

Blue Monkey Brewery

With 20 CAMRA & SIBA awards to their name, when you visit one of their pubs, expect to find locally brewed beers, from traditional-style cask ales, through to artisan hand-bottled specials and cutting edge craft-keg hop-monsters.
